The weather was very nice this year, so we haven't even noticed that December is just around the corner. The New Year is coming soon, that is why our TBT Reporters are reflecting on the future this month.

We are still thinking about school topics. This month we are discussing the best and the worst sides of school and what we would like to change in it.

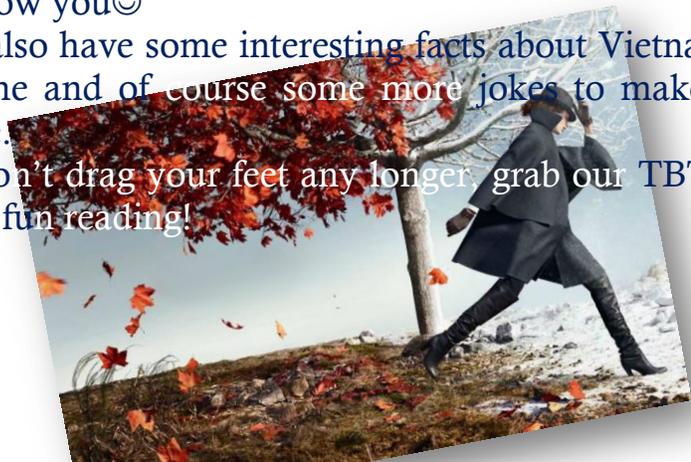

We are dreaming about "white Christmas", but autumn is still here, so we have some autumn images to show you 😊

We also have some interesting facts about Vietnamese cuisine and of course some more jokes to make you smile.

So don't drag your feet any longer, grab our TBT and have fun reading!

OUR FUTURE

Plans for the future.

I will study law to be a lawyer. I will live in a big city.

My plans for the future and my future job.

Now I'm at the third grade of middle school. After that I would like to go to high school. When I graduate school I'd love to move to England because my family lives there. I would get a job and work there for a year. Then I would have enough amount of money to come back to Poland and rent a flat here. My cousin and I have an idea to rent a flat together during the studies. I'm not sure what I want to study but once I had an idea to be a psychologist. I think it's pretty good job for me because I like helping people. Moreover I'm interested in mental health and I know something about it. So after I graduate university I'd like to get a job as a psychologist probably. So these are my plans 😊.

My future job.

I want to be a pilot. Despite the fact that his work is a very responsible one, I would like to be a plane pilot.

The pilot has a well-paid, interesting and important job. The captain of the plane commands the entire crew. The flight crew consists of: captain, co-pilot and flight attendants.

The flight begins with the external inspection of the aircraft. Then the captain leaves the plane and checks its technical condition. If he notices any malfunctions inside or outside the aircraft, he reports them to the mechanic who records this information on a special report.

Flight attendants check the equipment in trolleys on which they give away snacks, drinks, dishes and juices.

Later, before the crew lets passengers into the plane, pilots get a weather report. After getting the permit to let passengers in, when they are on the plane, pilots call the deicing station.

Then the mechanics spray the wings with a special deicing mixture. They do this because at high altitudes there is a low temperature, often below -20 degrees Celsius. If the wings are not covered with a special deicing mixture, then ice begins to form on the surface of the aircraft, which may lead to a stall and then a plane crash. After the deicing procedure, the pilots are waiting for another permit, this time for taxiing the aircraft to the position in front of the runway.

OUR FUTURE

There is a queue of planes to the runway. The flight controller allows the pilots to start at the right time. Before the plane starts, the pilots fill out a special list, thanks to which they do not forget about important procedures that were made before the start. Among other things, they extend the flaps to the right angle or check that the engine power is high enough to start. At the start there is a kind of culminating point, called "V1". It depends on the fact that if the plane is properly accelerated at the start, it cannot be stopped and you have to take off. When the plane is in the air, the flaps are extended because more lift is generated and the plane can rise. If the pilot forgets to eject them, the plane cannot rise due to lack of sufficient lift. There is usually a plane crash then.

After rising to the proper height, the captain retracts the flaps and does not reduce the power of the engines. Then the autopilot is usually turned on. Then, passengers can buy snacks from a cabin crew, go to the toilet, etc.

For landing, the captain opens the flaps again, turns off the autopilot, reduces the power of the engines and moves the landing gear out. After landing, the plane is going to a position where passengers are let out, and then - to the hangar.

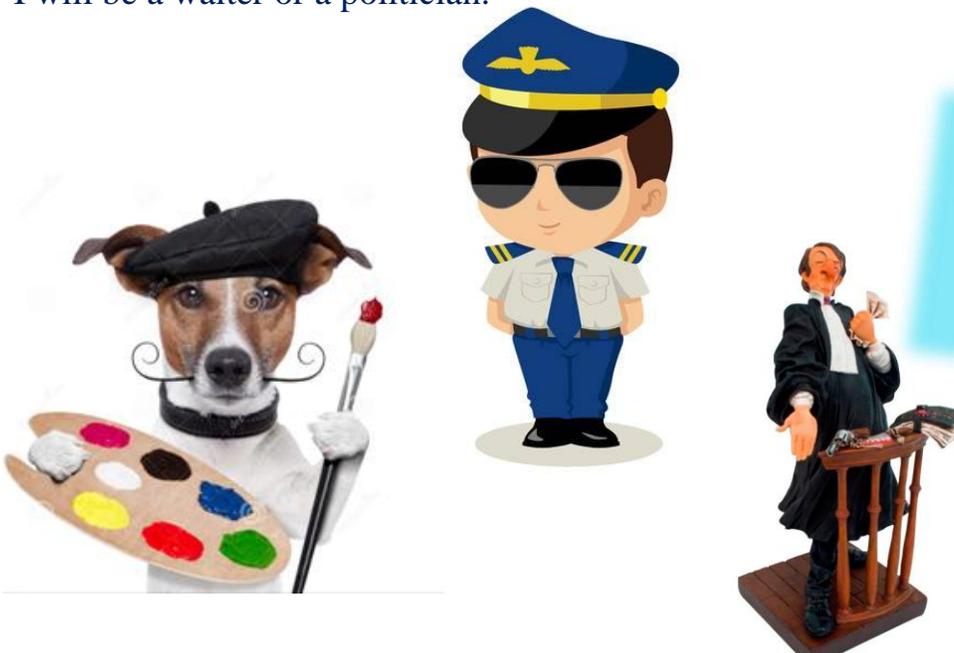

As you can see, the pilot's work is very exciting and interesting.
And you - who do you want to be?

My future.

I think that in the future I will be an artist. I love drawing and painting pictures. I was going to lots of drawing schools and in my free time I often draw. I like drawing portraits the most; I draw actors, singers, famous people and my family. I like trying new techniques. Painting by crayons, pencils, paints, coffee coals. I like drawing on a big format, but my teacher argues that I will be a waiter or a politician.

HOLIDAYS AND SCHOOL

My dream holidays.

My dream holidays is on a horse farm called Leśna Osada. There are 20 horses, 1 donkey, 3 dogs and 1 cat on this farm. I like this horse farm because I learn to gallop there and some communication with a horse. This is a relaxing feeling similar to love but it's a little bit different. Horses are my life passion but I don't have a lot of time for horse riding.

What I want to change in my school.

I would like to change a half of colleagues, because they're annoying and I'd like to change an amount of homework, because there is too much of it. I would like to change a few teachers and a number of lessons too. Lessons should start at 10 am at the earliest and finish at 1 pm at the latest. There is too much violence in our class and that should be changed too. There should already be tablets instead of heavy books in our school.

OUR HINTS

Favourite book.

The Christmas Carol – was published for the first time in December 1843. The story of Charles Dickens is written in Victorian style. It shows the deep experience and transformation of the miser Ebenezer Scrooge, occurring during the Christmas Eve night. He is a lone who dislikes people and only cares about multiplying his property. On Christmas Eve, he reveals the spirit of Jakub Marley - his deceased friend under the weight of his chain – forged during his lifetime. Terrified by the vision of lonely death, Scrooge notices the hopelessness of such a lifestyle and attitude to other people, he becomes back with a generous, affectionate man he was in his youth, before the death of his sister, the only person who ever seemed to care for him.

Movie Club Review

During the first Movie Club we watched „Singin’ in the Rain”. It is a story about very famous and rich actor who lives at the beginning of 20th century. He met a beautiful dancer who worked in the same studio. We can observe an attraction between the main characters. At the same time Hollywood is undergoing its golden era. So Don Lockwood (main character) has to start acting in movie with sound. The problem is with his movie partner, a girl who has a really funny sounding voice.

The movie is a romantic musical. It’s a classic and I think that everyone should watch it at least once in a lifetime.

During our second Movie Club we watched “Back to the Future” which is a movie from 1985. This masterpiece is about crazy scientist who is trying to make a time machine. He is accompanied with his friend and his dog Einstein. He invented a time machine and travelled back to 1955, to his high school years. This movie is good for a sci-fi fan.

JOKES AND FUNNY PICTURES

The beaver is a large, primarily nocturnal, semiaquatic rodent. Beavers are known for building dams, canals, and lodges (homes). They are the second-largest rodent in the world (after the capybara). Their colonies create one or more dams to provide still, deep water to protect against predators, and to float food and building material.

The beaver was given official status as an emblem of Canada on March 24, 1975.

In the late 1600s and early 1700s, the fashion of the day demanded fur hats, which needed beaver pelts. As these hats became more popular, the demand for the pelts grew.

There were an estimated six million beavers in Canada before the start of the fur trade. During its peak, 100,000 pelts were being shipped to Europe each year; the Canadian beaver was in danger of being wiped out. Luckily, about that time, Europeans took a liking to silk hats and the demand for beaver pelts all but disappeared. Today, thanks to conservation and silk hats, the beaver – the largest rodent in Canada – is alive and well all over the country.
